

RUALDO MENEGAT

Professor of the Geosciences Institute of the Federal University of Rio Grande do Sul, geologist, Master of Geosciences, Doctor of Sciences, Doctor Honoris Causa (Peru). Academic Coordinator of the Unesco-Unitwin Chair in Sustainable Development / Latin-American Forum of Environmental Sciences, Scientific Advisor of National Geographic Brazil, Honorary Member of the National Forum of Geology Courses of Brazil, Member of the INHIGEO, Chairman of the Brazilian Section of the IAGETH. Coordinated research projects about: stratigraphy, paleoecology, epistemology and the history of geology, urban geology, environmental and geo education, Machu Picchu geolandscape and Incaic geocognition, and geoheritage. Published many scientific papers and books, among which the innovative Environmental Atlas of Porto Alegre (2006).

TEMA / THEME:

GIGANTIC CITIES AND THE NEW CHALLENGE OF AN OLD SCIENCE: GEOETHICS, GEOEDUCATION AND GEOKNOWLEDGE IN PORTO ALEGRE, BRAZIL